Long Methodology Statement

Effective sample size after weighting applied: 284

Margin of error associated with effective sample size: $\pm 4.9\%$ (90% confidence level)

Variables used in weighting & weighting method used: Age x gender x location, housing tenure, Rim weighting

Full question text, responses categories and randomisation: See below

Proportion of landline/mobile completed interviews: n=17 by landline / n=380 mobile

Source of online sample: Not applicable

Positioning of voting intention questions in questionnaire? Immediately after demographics

2PP calculation method: Calculated according to preferences flows at previous elections

How were undecided voters handled? Undecided respondents who answered "don't know" were asked a leaner question which also included a "don't know" option. Those who answered don't know were excluded from published voting intention figures but not from the survey. 8% were thus excluded from published voting intention figures.

Q1 I'm going to ask you some questions about logging of native forests on government owned or public land. Which is closer to your view?

Single select; Read out and rotate 1-2

1	Logging of native forests on public land should end and timber should be sourced only from commercial plantations
2	Logging of native forests on public land should continue
3	Don't know

Q2 Which is closer to your view?

Single select; Read out and rotate 1-2

1	Ending logging of native forests will cost the economy and inevitably means fewer jobs
2	Australia can both end native forest logging and protect jobs by investing in plantations and funding more workers to manage native forests
3	Don't know
